

WILSON ASKS CONGRESS FOR STRIKE POWER

Wants Law Making Investigation Compulsory Before Railroad Strike Goes into Effect on Labor Day

URGES 8-HOUR DAY AS BASIS FOR WORK

For Larger Interstate Commerce Commission and Approval of Congress of Commission's Consideration of Rate Rise

Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—As a climax to his unprecedented negotiations to head off a disastrous labor war, President Wilson yesterday afternoon appeared before a joint session of Congress and urged legislation "to safeguard the life and interest of the nation."

He said he urged the legislation "not in haste or merely as a means of meeting a present emergency, but as permanent and necessary addition to the law, suggested, indeed, by circumstances we had hoped never to see, but imperative as well as just if such emergencies are to be prevented in the future."

He recommended:

1. Immediate provision for the enlargement and administrative reorganization of the interstate commerce commission enabling the commission to deal with the duties now devolving upon it "with a promptness and thoroughness which are with its present constitution and means of action practically impossible."

2. Establishment of an eight hour day as the legal basis, alike of work and of wages in the employment of all railroad employees engaged in operating trains in interstate transportation.

The time for the institution of this law is to be determined by Congress.

3. Authorization of the appointment by the president of a commission to study results in the application of the eight hour day to railroad operation, alike for the men and for the roads, the investigators to report to Congress at the earliest possible date, but without recommendation as to legislative action.

4. Approval by Congress of consideration by the interstate commerce commission of freight rate increases to meet such additional expenditures by the roads as are rendered necessary by adoption of the eight hour day.

5. Amendment of the federal law which provides for the mediation, conciliation and arbitration of such controversies as the present by adding a provision that in case methods of accommodation now provided should fail, a full public investigation shall be instituted and completed before a strike or lockout may lawfully be attempted.

6. Empowering the president in case of military necessity to take control of such portions and rolling stock of the railways as may be required for military use and to operate them for military purposes with authority to draft into the military service of the country such train crews and administrative officials as circumstances require.

NEW YORK PLAGUE "SPURT"

An Increase of 7 Deaths and 30 New Cases in 24 Hours Was Reported.

New York, Aug. 30.—New cases of infantile paralysis in this city for the 24 hours ended at 10 a. m. yesterday numbered 73 and deaths 32. This was an increase over the last like period of 7 deaths and 30 new cases.

Thirty-six new cases and four deaths from the disease in the state outside of Greater New York were reported to the state health department up to noon yesterday.

GREAT BEAR PARTY AT HOME.

Result of Wreck May Be That Stefanssen Will Have to Abandon Exploration.

Nome, Alaska, Aug. 30.—Twenty-one men who were on the power boat Great Bear when she was wrecked on Pinnacle rock near St. Matthews Land Aug. 10 were landed here Monday by the coast guard cutter McCullough. The Great Bear, built by John Borden of Chicago and Captain Louis Lane, an arctic navigator, had set out from Seattle on a hunting expedition and intended to meet Vilhjalmur Stefanssen, the explorer, at Banksland, and replenish his supplies. It is believed that Stefanssen, who lacks gasoline and other supplies, now will be obliged to abandon his explorations of the north of Banksland to return to the McKenzie delta for the winter.

COLLECTION ROBBED OF $50,000 ART

Theft Becomes Known in New York Through Police Warning to Pawn Brokers and Art Dealers.

New York, Aug. 30.—A great art collection somewhere in New York City has been looted of objects valued at nearly $50,000. The robbery took place on July 29 and became generally known yesterday through circulation by the police of a circular warning pawn brokers and dealers in antiques and art objects to be on the lookout for the stolen goods.

Most of the articles described in the police circular are of jade and crystal and of ancient Chinese manufacture. The list includes 83 articles, all of considerable value.

THREE IRISH PAPERS RAIDED BY MILITARY

The Editors Charged with Publishing Articles Likely to Cause Disaffection.

Tralee, Ireland, Aug. 30.—Police and soldiers yesterday seized the machinery and plant where the newspapers Nubianer, Kerryman and Liberator were published. The authorities acted under a warrant issued by General Sir John Maxwell, commander of the forces in Ireland, charging that the newspapers published on Aug. 19 an article calculated to cause disaffection. The managing director of the newspapers, named Griffin, was arrested during the Dublin rebellion last Easter but later was released.

The Teeth in Relation to Health.

Do not let your child grow up with crooked teeth, for this detracts greatly from the appearance and often spoils the expression of the face. The deformity is usually caused by allowing the decaying baby teeth to remain in the gums for too long a time. If the first teeth are kept in good condition they work loose of their own accord and come out at the proper time, but if they are allowed to decay they break off and their roots remain in the gums to play havoc with the second teeth. To get around the obstacle these teeth are obliged to come in obliquely or one partially overlapping the other. When this happens the child should be at once taken to a dentist, as it is a comparatively easy matter to straighten the teeth in youth.

Now there is a right and a wrong way to use even such a simple thing as a toothbrush. The teeth are full of crevices and crannies and to cleanse these thoroughly it is necessary to use an up and down motion as well as a sideways scrub. Either tooth paste or powder can be used. Some of the most beautiful teeth are kept in condition by using both, not at one time but on different days or at different times in the same day. Tooth paste contains a good deal of soap and has a decidedly cleansing effect, while the powder, containing much chalk in addition to certain cleansing ingredients, both cleanses and at the same time gives a high polish.

After the teeth have been brushed in the manner just described every night they should be gone over with a small rubber band or a strand of dental floss to dislodge any small particles of food that may have resisted the brush. Run the floss or the rubber carefully between the teeth and then rinse the mouth with water. It is very dangerous to let even the smallest fragment of food remain in the mouth during the night, for the moist heat will cause it at once to decay and this not only makes offensive breath but by fermentation manufactures an acid which eats through the enamel of the teeth and then they rapidly decay and crumble.

If you have neglected your teeth and they are in any way discolored or show signs of tartar they may be whitened with lemon and pumice powder. You can buy an ounce of the powdered pumice at any druggists for a few cents. It used to be thought that lemon juice injured the teeth, but scientists have discovered that this was a mistake, for the acid of lemons and all citrus fruits turns to alkali in the mouth. To whiten the teeth and remove the tartar cut a slice from a lemon, twist a wisp of absorbent cotton around the end of an orange wood stick, just such a stick as you use for your nails, dip this in the lemon and then into the pumice and rub it hard on the teeth. Pay especially attention to the sides and crevices between the teeth, for these are the place that are first attacked by the tartar. Be careful in this cleaning process not to make the gums sore or to loosen them around the teeth.—Woman's World for September.

LEAVES ESTES PARK ON THURSDAY

Democrats Putting All Their Energies into Maine Campaign

Estes Park, Colo., Aug. 30.—On Thursday Charles Evans Hughes will conclude his holiday at Estes Park and will continue his campaign tour toward the East. In the meantime, he is playing golf and motoring about the mountains. Yesterday he dined 10,000 feet above the sea with Enos Mills, and though he has found no time as yet to do mountain climbing on foot, he took a walk over the rough ground toward the region of perpetual snow. Behind him the Republican nominee is leaving a hopeful trail, Utah, to the political West what Vermont is to the East, will cast its four electoral votes for Mr. Hughes. In that state the Progressive party has entirely departed. In Wyoming the Democrats are shaky over the November result.

The Democrats are busy themselves with self-praise in Maine. Secretary of the Navy Daniels, continuing his series of speeches there, Atty. Gen. Gregory, Carl Vrooman of the department of agriculture and others are recounting the legislation favorable to the farmers and favorable to the country that has been passed by the Democratic administration. They are covering also the points of the Wilson European and Mexican policies to the effect that the country should be grateful for being kept out of war. Mr. Hughes, according to one Democratic argument, would be criticizing the Democrats for having plunged the country into strife instead of for having kept what they call an ignoble peace if the course of the president had been different from the one actually pursued.

UNPREPAREDNESS IS COWARDICE.

Declares Col. A. E. B. Stephens Before the National G. A. R.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 30.—"Unpreparedness in the last analysis is nothing more than cowardice," Col. A. E. B. Stephens of Cincinnati, commander in chief of the Sons of Veterans, said in his address of greeting at the encampment of the G. A. R. here last night.

"True patriotism, my comrades, not only means love of country and that she should be wedded to the great doctrine of peace, justice and liberty, but it also means love and veneration to those illustrious spirits, who suffered and died that this country with all its splendid traditions and history might live," he declared. "We, who have come up since the Civil war, having coursing through our veins the blood of those gallant men, should learn of them lessons which we need for the twentieth century. We should catch their spirit of absolute devotion which gave up everything for the republic and counted life not dear. We should follow the example of those who found joy in sacrifice and their highest rewards in the sweet, stern face of their country as she smiled upon them as they died. My comrades, we live in deeds, not years."

"As American citizens we have received our precious heritage of liberty at the price of sacrifices, made first by the founders and later by the preservers of the republic. We live in a blood-bought land and under a blood-bought flag. Ours is a costly citizenship. It is built upon the best blood and treasure of the nation from Bunker hill to Manila bay. In this as true patriots we glory. But let us ever remember that in the lives, patriotism, sufferings, and history of the soldiers of the great Civil war, the best things of life are ours to enjoy today."

"I believe I voice the sentiment of every patriotic heart before me to-day when I say I am a firm believer in the policy of preparedness and ample and thorough preparedness at that. All the traditions of our country point with unerring fingers to the necessity and wisdom of that policy. I am for national preparedness that will create respect for the United States in the world over. I am for a policy of trade protection and even-handed justice for all. I am an American that sees America first, for a patriotism that means more than a mere response to the colors, a patriotism that means an undying devotion to our land, an unflinching loyalty, vigilance and reverence for the flag, for all the traditions, history, and brave men that belong to this great nation of ours. No nation can be weak to-day and strong in efficiency to-morrow. I would be just as much ashamed to be rash and unprepared as I would be a coward, for unpreparedness in the last analysis is nothing more than cowardice."

"True value, my friends, is self-respecting. The valor is circumspect. The valor strikes only when it is right to strike. True valor withholds itself from all implications and entanglements and waits for the great opportunity when the sword will flash from its scabbard as if it carried the very light of heaven upon its blade. That is my sentiment and feeling in this critical period of our nation's history, sentiments which I feel find responsive echo in the breast of every loyal veteran and son of a veteran before me this day, and I feel I do not in any sense violate the proprieties of this occasion by their enunciation and declaration."

PERSHING TO WITHDRAW BY SEPT. 15 IS REPORT

Mexico City Believes That the United States Army Will Retire By That Time.

Mexico City, Aug. 30.—Reports coming from Chihuahua City that the American punitive expedition is preparing for a general withdrawal from Mexico on or before Sept. 15 were greeted here with great enthusiasm. The rumors evidently are based upon Gen. Funston's report favoring withdrawal, and state that the joint commission will act on his recommendation at its first meeting.

It was said here in government circles that as soon as the expedition was withdrawn Gen. Carranza would be expedited in his efforts to re-establish constitutional government. The rumor that the expedition was soon to retire was credited here, as Gen. Pershing Monday withdrew the 13th cavalry from El Valle to Colonia Dublan.

He said, however, the move had no significance and merely was intended to facilitate the supplying of forage. El Valle was the advance base of the expedition and is about 50 miles southeast of Colonia Dublan.

Victor Aldrich and Re Dawson, pitchers with the Indianapolis club, were purchased by the Cubs Saturday. Aldrich pitched a one-hit game Monday, after he was sold to the Cubs, for the Indianapolis club. They are to report at the end of the American association season.

The Braves lost Zimmerman after all. The one big drawback was on account of the hitch in trading players. He was traded to the New York Giants Monday night for Players Larry Doyle, second baseman, Herbert Hunter, first baseman, and Outfielder Jacobson.

little baseball experience around the coast, looks like a baseball player from every angle. In the doubleheader at Boston Monday, he was hitting the horsehide for an average of .500, being credited with four hits out of eight times up, one being a triple, and he received five put-outs and one assist.

With 35 games left on their schedule, the Red Sox ought to win at least 20 of them, making a total of 90 victories. It would be a hard task to find another team that would have much of a chance to win this number.

If Fred Merkle can help the Robins win the National league flag, the New York fans will be more than reconciled to his departure from Manhattan. The Knickerbocker fans are more than anxious to see a world's series, even if they have to cross the bridge to see the games.

"It was the best pitched game I ever saw in my career," said Umpire Tommy Connolly after Joe Bush of the Athletics pitched his no-hit game Saturday. "Bush had everything, and the way that he mixed up his fast and slow balls was wonderful. Cleveland players couldn't touch him. The Indians didn't want that no-hit, no-run game and they did all in their power to rattle Bush. Graney, the last man at bat, yelled: 'Well, Joe, I hate to do it, but here goes your record.' Bush did not falter, but pitched the same article of ball that he had been, and Graney popped an easy one to the infield."

Cape Ann fans and friends of Stuff McInnis hear that he is determined to redeem the season of 1916 by a brilliant finish. McInnis has hit for over .300 during the past six seasons, but at the beginning of this year he experienced the worst slump of his career. Up to the first of July his batting average was below the .200 mark. Connie Mack thought that he was baseball tired. At his suggestion he stopped playing for about two weeks. On his return to the game, he immediately picked up in his batting, hitting all the pitchers in his old-time style. As a result he has boosted his average to the .296 mark, with every prospect of its going to the .300 notch. The Athletics played doubleheaders on Thursday and Friday of last week and in the two afternoons McInnis garnered 10 hits, for an average of .714.

Yesterday the national commission served notice on all major league clubs that all clubs whose roster includes 35 or
